

Don't leave yourself or your family vulnerable to extortion or abduction, responsive measures now can ensure your future security.

OUR SERVICE

Abduction, kidnapping and extortion thankfully remain infrequent, however, for those rare cases when an incident takes place the experience can have a permanent life-changing impact.

Life factors such as wealth, holding a prominent position, business activities, travel frequency and location, can increase the potential risk.

Our accomplished team has held senior and practitioner positions working for law enforcement in anti-kidnap roles. We are uniquely positioned to provide advice and guidance in advance to reduce the risk of such offenses being perpetrated in the first place. Liaising and working alongside existing law enforcement staff specialising in investigating active crimes.

In the event of a kidnap taking place, Securitatem Consultancy can provide anti-kidnap & extortion resolutions. A professional unit works to secure the safe release of any hostages and will deal discreetly and expertly with any form of blackmail or extortion.

STAGES:

- Review any current plans and tactics including anti-kidnap protocols
- Produce mitigation arrangements for you including reducing reputational damage
- Training on taking action when faced with a threat
- Agree and help manage crisis management plans in the event of an incident
- Support, advise, and liaise with relevant authorities to secure the safe release of any hostage
